USSR Blasts Frontier Changes In Germany

Charges Big 3 Broke Treaty Agreements

London, Tuesday, April 5—(AP)—Russia has protested to the United States, Britain and France that recent changes in the frontiers of western Germany break existing agreements with the Soviet Union, Tass said today.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said in a broadcast Moscow dispatch that Russian ambassadors to Washington, London and Paris had delivered the protest note to the respective foreign ministries.

The note, as quoted by Tass, said the frontier changes violate a "declaration" of June 5, 1945, Russia said this provides that German boundary changes "may be effected only by joint decision of the governments of the U.S.S.R., United States, Great Britain and France."

3 Minor Shifts
The Western Allies announced in Paris March 27 that three minor border shifts affecting 32 square miles of German territory were being made to meet difficulties in communications and administration. Portion of the ARA sliced off were placed under The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Saar (French controlled) and France.

The announcement said the shifts were being made on a provisional basis and that the permanence of the changes would depend on an eventual peace treaty with Germany.

The Russian note mentioned the Allied announcement, recalled the 1945 declaration on Germany and said:

Text Of Protest
"The Soviet government considers it necessary to inform the governments of Great Britain, the United States and France it considers the changes of Germany's western frontiers effected by the governments of Great Britain, the United States and France as unlawful in violation of the declaration on the position of Germany."

The Soviet note quoted that declaration as saying the four governments "will determine the boundaries of Germany or of any part thereof and the status of Germany or of any area which at the present time is a part of German territory."

Indict 24 Norfolk Cops On Charge Of Accepting Bribes

Norfolk, Va., April 4—(AP)—A corporation court grand jury indicted 24 Norfolk policemen today on charges of accepting bribes as part of a payoff system to cover for the numbers racket.

Shortly after the indictments were returned, suspension of the 24 and six other policemen was announced by C. H. Dalby, public safety director and acting police chief.

Dalby said the suspension resulted from an investigation of the police department by himself and special Counsel E. Pryor Worthington.

The indictments returned today charged that each of the 24 policemen accepted $10 from Patrolman C. A. Withrow between Nov. 1 and Dec. 10, 1948.

Withrow testified last month before a special grand jury that he had accepted and distributed bribes for W. Carvel Benson, who has often been arrested here on numerous lottery charges.

Capture Boy Who Fled Robbery Site With 2-Year-Old

Granite City, Ill., April 4—(AP)—Robert Gene Payne, 18, was captured yesterday after police said, he seized a two-year-old boy and fled from a confectionary in an attempted burglary.

The youngster, Glen Eugene Morgan, clad only in night clothes, was carried into an alley about 100 feet from the store where he was dropped on a rubbish heap after neighbors gave chase. The boy suffered a cut on the heel.

The Mitchell, Ill., youth was charged with burglary in a warrant issued today by assistant state attorney George Moran and was held in default of $5,000 bond. Moran said the case would be presented to the grand jury.

Mrs. Glen Morgan, the child's mother, told police that Payne broke into living quarters behind the confectionary shortly after midnight. The baby and his brother, William, 11, were asleep but Mrs. Morgan was up reading. Her husband was not at home.

State May Curb Labor Unions—Supreme Court

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The supreme court held unanimously today that states have the right to curb labor union activities which restrain trade.

"The state's power to govern in this field is paramount," Justice Black said for the court. "and x x x nothing in the constitutional guarantees of speech or press compels a state to apply or not to apply its anti-trade restraint law to groups of workers, businessmen or others."

The court held that under Missouri law a union had no right to picket a plant with the aim of forcing it to stop sales to non-union ice peddlers.

Russian Regiment Makes New Foray Into Iran Border

Tehran, Iran, April 4—(AP)—A military informant said today a Russian regiment, supported by tanks and armored cars, had made a new foray into Azerbaijan province and attacked an Oraniam army post.

Iranian troops replied to the Soviet fire and an "important battle" ensued last Thursday and Friday, the source said. The Iranian government was believed to have handed Russia a stiff note of protest.

There has been no official announcement as yet concerning the matter.

The reported clash near the Iranian-Soviet border occurred at a time of strained relations between the two countries. Russian pressure on Iran has been mounting, causing speculation that this oil-rich country is becoming the next focal point in the cold war.

The informant gave this account of the fighting in Azerbaijan province:

Soviet troops crossed the border in the Ardebil district near the Caspian Sea last Thursday and fired on the Iranian outpost at Qnli Boulaq. A battalion of Iranian troops fired back. The fighting lasted till Friday.

Pact Signed By 12 Nations; Some Senators Not Invited

Lucas Calls State Dept. Act 'Blunder'

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The state department failed to send formal invitations to all senators to see the Atlantic pact signed today and thereby drew a public rebuke from Democratic leaders who had to smooth things over.

Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) called it a "blunder." Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee said the department acted in "poor taste."

After a frank telephone talk with department officials, Lucas was able to announce in the Senate a few hours before the ceremony that all senators and their wives were invited.

Lucas, Connally Have Job
Upon Lucas and Connally will fall a major share of the job of guiding the treaty through the Senate.

They have to help muster a two-thirds majority.

So when Lucas rose confidentially shortly after the Senate convened and announced that he would ask a recess at 3:30 in order that members could go to the ceremony, he was surprised to learn that not all of them had been invited.

This came out when Senator Donnell (R-Mo.), a leading critic of the pact, said he had not received an invitation. Admission was by invitation only.

Lucas hastened to amend the official invitation list showed that invitations had gone only to members of the Senate and House foreign committees. The chairmen and ranking members of all other committees, leaders of both parties in House and Senate, the House speaker and the Senate presiding officer, Vice President Barkley, as well as their wives.

That meant 43 senators and 46 House members.

Department officials did not explain why other senators were not asked. Presumably this was "to avoid overcrowding."

But to newspapermen, Connally and Lucas displayed their vexation. Lucas said the arrangements should have included "a prominent spot" at the ceremonies for every senator.

Lucas took note of the Senate's forthcoming ratification role and observed that the department "should have given attention to us."

Dept. Of Agriculture To Get $701,122,079

Washington, April 4—(AP)—ment received for the present fiscal year.

As a matter of fact, the New York House appropriations committee today approved a $701,122,079 money bill for the agriculture department.

And it promptly was accused by its Republican member, Rep. Taber of New York, of "juggling figures" in an effort to reflect a savings.

Insisting on the "right of the farmers of this nation to export surplus," the committee said two national trade agreements, or even a two-price farm system, should be used to retain America's fair share of the world markets.

Under a two-price system, products are sold abroad at a lower price than at home, with the government making up the difference to farmers.

Taber took exception to the committee's claim that the total cash it recommended represents a reduction of $25,798,829 from what President Truman asked and a cut of $701,814,314 from what the department received for the present fiscal year.

Truman Calls Treaty Shield For Signers

Washington, April 4—(AP)—Amid solemn diplomatic pageantry, 12 North Atlantic nations today signed a treaty designed to confront any Russian aggression with a united defense.

After hearing President Truman hail it as a "shield against aggression," the foreign ministers stepped up one by one to put their names to the historic, 1,040-word pact.

Previously they, like Mr. Truman, had proclaimed to Russia and all the world that their only purpose was peace and security.

Add Blunt Warnings
But several of them added blunt warnings to nations contemplating violence. Britain's foreign minister, Ernest Bevin, declared:

"Our peoples do not want war and do not glorify war, but they will not shrink from it if aggression is threatened."

Secretary of State Dean Acheson drew on the Bible. "For those who set their feet upon the path of aggression," he said, "it (the pact) is a warning that if it must need be that offenses come, then we unto them by whom the offense cometh."

Only some 28 senators witnessed signing of the treaty which has to muster a two-thirds vote of the Senate to become effective. The state department had invited only about half the Senate, including senior committee members, leaders and members of the foreign affairs group. But it hurriedly authorized a blanket invitation to all senators a few hours before the ceremony when majority leader Lucas of Illinois vigorously protested.

1,500 Watch Signing
A crowd of 1,500 which jammed the government's gray and gold departmental auditorium included representatives of most of the nations with envoys in Washington. But there were several notable exceptions. These were the representatives of Russia and the Soviet bloc. They did not ask for tickets, the state department explained.

Mr. Truman spoke after each of the visiting foreign ministers and Secretary Acheson stepped forward on the flag-draped platform to make brief addresses. Then came the actual signing. Belgium's foreign minister, Paul-Henri Spaak, was the first to put his name down. The others followed in alphabetical order—representatives of Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The

Win An Elephant And Live A Life Of Ease

By Hal Boyle
New York — (AP) — It is welcome news indeed that a radio giveaway show is offering a live elephant as a prize.
This is a milestone in the field of education. Wait and see.
To win the elephant all you have to do is answer a phone call and identify a certain tune played on a certain program. This requires no Toscanini knowledge of music. It requires no long hours of library research.
The correct answers to these radio quiz contests now are printed in $1 tip sheets, hawked on the streets around Broadway's neon temples.
The offer of a free elephant is a sure sign that at last the radio give-away programs are growing up. The industry is maturing. For too long they have competed to see which could give away the oddest assortment of zany prizes. A typical package might include a trip to the south pole, four brassieres, a motor car, 200 used pogo sticks, a saw complete with litter, a refrigerator, a stove, a motor car and a leaky Liberty ship.
The winner of such a package was no longer a human being. He became a human hock shop, frantically seeking bidders for his impractical loot.
Order Displaces Chaos
This chaos is reduced to order at one stroke by the offer of an elephant. A live whale as first prize would have been only an elfin gesture. All a man can learn from a whale is how to swim.
But an elephant—there's something really practical. It points up anew how barren have been the rewards of higher learning in America up till now. In its 336 years Harvard university has never seen fit to offer its graduates an elephant. No, it gives nothing but a broad "A" accent and a paltry sheepskin. They even remove the wool from the sheepskin—wool with which a white Harvard man could easily weave himself a suit.
Some may wonder why the award of an elephant over the air is of historic importance. They may recall that in Siam a wealthy man often took revenge upon his poorer neighbor by giving him a white elephant. The white elephant was sacred. And the poverty-stricken neighbor sank into ruin as the elephant ate him out of house and home.
Real Economic Asset
But an elephant—white or gray, not pink—would be a real economic asset in any American home today.
Elephants make wonderful baby sitters, and all they ask is hay. As any parent knows, what baby sitters ask nowadays certainly ain't hay.
Elephants also are more handy around the home than a husband.
They will move heavy furniture about all day long without complaining. They can be taught to sweep, spray dirty dishes, dust rooms.
They are loyal and won't gossip about your household affairs. As some maids have been known to do.
An elephant won on the radio should be regarded, for tax purposes, as a capital gain rather than as pure income. The owner could read him the encyclopedia—or send him to Harvard. After that he could become quickly wealthy by letting the elephant, a beast of fabulous memory, compete for him on the radio giveaways.
Who knows? Some day they may put a human being up as first prize
—and an elephant will win him.

Msgr. Connor Praises
Marshall Plan Aid;
Recalls European Visit

"It surprises me that we are in this country subject to so much unfavorable propaganda on the Marshall Plan," said Monsignor F. F. Connor of Aurora, state chaplain of the Catholic Daughters of America, at the luncheon at the Dunlop hotel on Sunday when Court Our Saviour was hostess to courts of the Springfield and Belleville dioceses at their biennial conference.

Monsignor Connor in company with Monsignor Abraham of Michigan City, Indiana, a priest of the Eastern Rite Catholic church, recently returned from a trip to European countries. "This money is given to governments, not to individuals —and if you read that England or Holland is selling goods received through the Marshall plan back to us at a profit, you may be sure that the dishonesty is that of a few leaders, not of the poor man who needs a job."

"The industrial division of the Marshall Plan is just beginning to work in Italy. On the boat with us which landed at Naples on September 10 were four men and their families who were going to oversee the spending of the money which would implement the economic recovery part of the plan; all aid given prior to that time was intended only to relieve actual starvation and want.
These men are neither Catholics nor Democrats—they are millionaires who have made a success of their businesses and who are giving a year of their lives to this service to our government and to us, its taxpayers. Men working to repair the docks at Naples, bombed during the war, receive about a dollar a day half of which is required to buy bread for their families."

Views Living Conditions
Msgr. Connor was assigned to St.
Peter's Church during his stay in Rome and went to and from the church on a streetcar in order to see as much as possible of the conditions under which the poor people lived. He found them miserably clad and fed but avidly reading newspapers. Italian priests wear their cassocks at all times and one who wears street clothing such as priests wear in this country is immediately classified as an American or a German Lutheran.

"The first decent food came into Paris under the Marshall Plan about three weeks before our arrival here," Monsignor Connor said in describing their Paris visit. Before that time, if one had plenty of money, he could get good bread and good food at the world-famous restaurants and hotels, but the natives had little food or clothing. Paris experienced the worst fog in 50 years while the Americans were there, and native men all wore strips of flannel around their throats—the women seemed to be harder, even though they wore less clothing.

Has Audience With Pope
The highlight of Monsignor Con-nor's trip came after he returned from Lebanon to Rome when he and Monsignor Abraham and his uncle, another monsignor of the Eastern rite, were received by Pope Pius XII.
Their audience followed that of the editor of the London Tablet. "The Holy Father is six feet tall, pale, thin, not in very good health—his hands are exquisite—sweet, gentle, kind, and sympathetic," said Msgr.
Connor in his description of the pope. "Anything I could say about the trip after describing our audience with the Holy Father would be anticlimax," he said in conclusion.
Monsignor Connor, who was introduced by Miss Marie Scanlon, state regent of Chicago, presented to Court Our Saviour a copy of Father Keller's book "You Can Change The World," with the exhortation to those present to inform themselves on world affairs and to work to make the world a better and happier place to live by following his advice based on the old Chinese proverb,
"It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness."

The luncheon committee of which Miss Tillie Schirz was chairman included Mrs. Virginia Farran, Mrs.
Mary Neuner, and Mrs. Stella Ryan.
Miss Resa Walsh, grand regent of Court Our Saviour, presided. Special guests were Father O'Neal, chaplain of Court St. Rita, Pana; Father Franzen, chaplain of Court Our Saviour; and Father Jeanine, chaplain at Our Saviour's Hospital.

Several Subjects Discussed
The conference opened at 10 o'clock at Our Saviour Grade School with Miss Scanlon in charge of the program of papers on subjects assigned to the district deputies attending, in addition to reports from visiting grand regents. The invocation was given by Father Franzen as was the address of welcome, and the benediction by Father O'Neal. The subjects presented for consideration and discussion were:
"Catholic Daughters," Mrs.
Barbara Albright, Springfield; "How to Interest the Younger Members," Miss Ruth Ryan, Urbana; "Federal Aid to Education," Celeste Rickelman, Effingham; "The Apostolate of the Aged," Miss Mary Carroll, Decatur; "Principles of Parliamentary Procedure," Mrs. Kathleen Coenen, Jacksonville; "Ways and Means," Mrs. Ethel Larrabee, Decatur; and "The Case of Cardinal Mindzenty," Mrs. Mabel May, Stonington. A paper on publicity was prepared and presented by Mrs.
Lillian Bieser of Centralia, publicity chairman for the Belleville diocese, who also presented one on study clubs prepared by Mrs. Ira Garnier of Centralia—who was unable to be present.

At the ritualistic ceremony which took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Knights of Columbus club rooms, thirty-six new members were received into the order. Miss Paula Coenen of Jacksonville, solo-list for the occasion, accompanied by Mrs. Alta Elsch, organist at the Church of Our Saviour, sang "When Children Pray" by Fenner and "Ave
Maria" by Schubert.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the day's activities by a committee composed of Mrs. Anna Spreen, chairman, Mrs. Virginia Farran,
Mrs. Lorretta Flanagan, Miss Betty
Hall, Mrs. Mary Hall, Mrs. Stella Hanley, Mrs. Florence Henry, Mrs.
Barbara Jordan, Mrs. Bernadine

Tiny Film Star Sets Styles For Small Fry

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
New York —(NEA)— Tiny film stars set styles for little fashion followers just as the big girls of the screen do for grown-ups.
When exquisite dresses are created especially to enhance the box-office appeal of a "baby" star, such frocks when translated into ready-to-wear designs are apt to look as charming on other small girls.

If any mother doubts the ability of a film expert to make the most of a little girl's dress-up appeal, she can scotch any misgivings by looking at the pert cottons shown. These were designed for Gigi Perreau, seven-year-old star of "Enchantment," but all are available to little prima donnas off the screen. The pretty-as-a-picture-look frock (center), owes its sheer charms to two-toned organdy. Yellow organdy makes the ruffle-skirted dress and white organdy makes the lace-trimmed plastron and collar.

The other two dresses chalk up the glamor rating of practical-dyed cottons. The dark green cotton (left) is given peasant-styled guimpe and sleeve treatment with ruffled white organdy, piped with royal blue, which accents the hemline of the dress.

The red pique dress, trimmed with navy blue (right), is frosted with a white pique collar. White piping accents twin button-trimmed panels incised into the front of the sash-tied dress.

CASTLE IN SPAIN IS NAVAL CENTER
Madrid —(P)— The Spanish Navy has acquired one of the finest castles in Spain for its archives. The 16th century palace was given the Navy by the Marquis of Santa Cruz.
Sited in El Viso in southern Spain, it was the residence of the marquis' ancestor, Don Alvaro de Bazan, famous Spanish Admiral who successfully fought the Turks in the naval battle of Lepanto, in 1571.
It contains a valuable collection of 16th century paintings.

Enter Derby Now And Get 1949 Rule Book

With registration already in progress for the 1949 All-American Soap Box Derby which takes place here on Sunday, July 17, boys planning to enter the race are urged to sign up immediately in order to obtain their official 1949 rule books.

The books are distributed at the time of registration, which is being held daily at the Cornbelt Chevrolet company, co-sponsor of the race with the Journal Courier. The race is staged by the Exchange Club.
Each year a few rules are added to the official rule book, and others are changed, so it is important for boys who are entering the Derby competition to study the rule book carefully. The book contains official rules and illustrations which help Derby contestants to interpret the rules and to follow the text.

The national rules committee of the Derby is made up of representatives of certain sponsoring newspapers and of the group that is in charge of the operation of the national final race. Every year this committee goes over the rules in an all-day meeting and makes changes that are thought to be necessary.

"Most of the changes are to make it easier for all boys to compete in the race on an equal basis," said Charles J. French, executive director of the Derby and advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, national co-sponsor of the race. "The changes of the past two years have stressed this point particularly, and also are aimed at making the race even safer than it has been in the past."

Changes for the 1948 race eliminated transparent windshields. Some boys had been taking advantage of this feature, and making their cars look like "submarines on wheels" by using transparent materials all along the entire cowlings. Hand brakes were eliminated because it had been discovered that foot-operated brakes were the only safe type.

This year, the committee decided to eliminate the use of power tools in Derby racing car construction and finishing.

There is one basic rule which boys must never forget: every car must be built only by the boys who enter the race. This means no help from parents, friends or any adults. You can have advice from your father, or from previous Derby contestants, but you have to build the car yourself.

Consumer Survey Interviews Will Begin Tuesday

The annual Consumer Analysis survey conducted each year by the Journal Courier begins April 5 when Mrs. R. O. Martin, 704 South East street and her three interviewers start calling on 150 Jacksonville housewives.
Identification will be furnished by each interviewer so there will be no question in the mind of the housewife selected and called on for participation. These women represent Illinois Research & Survey, which has been hired to handle this job for this newspaper. Housewives will find the 20 to 22 minute interval required for the interview most interesting.

It is necessary that a similar number of men also be called on for certain questions pertaining to this community-wide survey. The survey deals with the use of various home products and all interviews will have an important part in the final community report.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE next week's washing took on a rosy hue, even though this time Sally had played it smart, so she told me, and knowing much, much better than to wash the socks with linens, she had set them aside to do last.

"What did you do first?" I asked, knowing from the tint that something was wrong.

She explained that one of her friends had told her how she washed her silk things by placing them in the machine with lukewarm water—just a little—and mild soap flakes.

"Wasn't the water pink from your silk things?" I asked.

"I don't think so," she said. "I couldn't see any pink. There was a pile of soapuds on top. Nice, creamy soapuds."

So now we had faintly pink linen. Before our range included green and some of the lesser-to-be-desired shades (Sally had a gray sweater), I forbade her to help any further.

"Use the machine for your own things any time you want to," I said, "but under no circumstances are you to help me."

She received this ultimatum with resignation, with a look that said, "Gratitude lies not in the human heart; Columbus died in chains."

HER next good deed was aimed at me alone. It was my day at the Red Cross sewing room. I left the house early and returned late, tired as a day bent over a sewing machine always left me. No one was home when I entered the house. Yet I could hear a pounding and thumping going on in the kitchen. I opened the door and immediately was set upon by a mad woman. It was white about the size of a small child. It failed the air with its thin arms; jumped furiously from floor to table top to floor to sink to floor to chair to floor to stove to floor to table top.

It finally perched a moment. Heavens above! It was a turkey! A plucked turkey!

Now I've seen nudes, plain and fancy, bewitching and embarrassed, but I never saw one as naked as this one, or as hysterical. It began again its crazy jumping from floor to stove to floor, making a horrible gobbling noise in its throat. I backed out of the kitchen.

I snatched the phone off the hook and tried to think of the number of the butcher, of the fire department, of the police department. I had a one-turkey riot on my hands.

While I stood at the phone, Sally bounced in. "Guess what!" she cried, beaming. "I have a surprise for you! A woman from the country brought in a turkey, a great big one." Sally stretched her arms to show me how big. "She said you bought it at Christmas time but asked her to keep it on the hoof until you sent for it. But she's going away. So she delivered all the remaining birds alive to her customers who had ordered them held so they could kill them when they wanted them to eat."

Bursting with pride, she concluded, "I fixed it for you. It's all ready to cook. I intended to be home before you returned, but I went out for a little air. . . . Phew, turkeys smell awful." She wrinkled up her nose prettily. "And you beat me to it."

"Sally," I pinned her with my eye, my evil eye, "how did you make that turkey hold still" while you plucked it?"

"I killed it," she said competently. "I didn't want to make a mess all over everything, chopping its head off. And I didn't think I could wring its neck. I'm not strong enough. I killed it a nice, quiet way. I chloroformed it."

Give it Room— it's ROADMASTER!

WHEN this sight greets you in your rear-view mirror — mister, better give over!

Overtaking you is just about the ablest performer on the road today — and wise drivers long ago learned the only thing to do with ROADMASTER is give it road room and a salute as it passes.

Reason is — ROADMASTER is something excitingly new in fine cars.

Big, yes — stretches a gorgeous eighteen feet, with all that such size means in comfort and inside stretch-out space.

But part and parcel of every one of its 4,400-odd pounds is the fastest footwork on the highway. Action is the key of every part, from its 150-hp Fireball power plant to the swift, silken, unbroken surge you get from Dynaflo Drive.

As a matter of fact, action's even invited by the price tag. By the pound, by the inch, by any yardstick you want to lay against it, it's the buy of the fine-car field.

For proof, just gather a few delivered prices on other cars and bring them around. We'll show you so much more for your dollar you'll waste no time getting an order in.

"Have you got any with appendectomy scars?"

Vows Exchanged
By Manila Girl,
Cpl. Willie Boston

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Boston, rural route five, Jacksonville, have received word of the marriage of their son, Cpl. Willie E. Boston, to Miss Lina Afronzoza of Manila.

CPL. AND MRS. BOSTON

The couple were married on Saturday, Feb. 12, in a 6 p. m. ceremony performed in the William McKinley chapel by the Rev. Father Edward Luitgen.

Their attendants were Mrs. Conners and Walfredo Sun of Manila. For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white Murray-taffeta, accented with seed pearls. The gown was styled with a yoke of nylon marquisette, long sleeves, and a flowing skirt with bustle back.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The many wedding gifts received by the couple were on display.

The bride is employed as assistant secretary at the Traynor Textile Corp., in Manila. The bridegroom is stationed with the army in Manila.

Ho Chi-minh Indo-China's Big Question Mark; Idol
Of The Viet Nam PeopleBy WALTER BRIGGS
NEA Special Correspondent

Bangkok, Siam — (NEA) — Is the veteran revolutionary Ho Chi-minh leading the peoples of French Indo-China along the path of Communism?

That is one of the most important questions being asked today in Asia. It is a major mystery.

Its deep significance lies in the fact that Ho leads about 18,000,000 people. For this bloc to fall into the Soviet orbit would be a mighty blow to the world's democracies. The people of Indo-China are virile, and their land yields coal, tin, rubber and much rice.

The French claim officially that Ho is a Communist. However, some observers believe that Ho is a patriot to be compared with George Washington.

"The French cry 'Communist,'" one neutral Western observer said, "to beg the issue. They say that they can't deal with a Communist. But their real intent is to maneuver into remaining in Indo-China."

Whether Ho is a Communist is not clear because no foreign observer has visited Viet Nam, the land which Ho controls, for about two years. Viet Nam is cut off from the world by French troops and jungles.

Fails To Gain Entrance
This correspondent tried twice to enter Viet Nam. Once the hazards of bandits along the Chinese border thwarted the attempt. Another time minor Viet Nam officials whom I met on a Red Cross rendezvous refused to sanction my proceeding to the interior.

Reliable reports from Viet Nam indicate, however, that Ho employs stern tactics to regiment his people against the French. These probably can be traced to his background of Soviet discipline. Ho certainly has been (as he may be still) far up in the Soviet international hierarchy.

When asked by radio recently if he still is a Communist, Ho replied: "My country is my party."

He said nothing more. His refusal to make an outright denial, some observers believe, lends credence to the French charge.

However, Ho did deny — and vehemently — a report circulated recently by the French that he had reached a "secret agreement" with China's Communist boss Mao Tse-tung. "The French intend to use this falsehood to plead for other countries' aid," Ho broadcast.

PATRIOT TO HIS PEOPLE
Ho may be a Communist, but to his people he is definitely a patriot. He is idolized in Viet Nam as Gandhi was in India. His government has increased literacy, public health facilities and the standard of living, according to reliable reports.

In Viet Nam's resistance to the French attempt to win back their "backyard on the Pacific," Ho's guerrillas have confined the French to a few major cities, roads and plantations. The French are using about 110,000 troops — including Germans in the Foreign Legion, Moroccans and Senegalese — against the Vietnamses and have suffered between 20,000 and 30,000 casualties.

The French are trying to persuade Bao Dai, the youthful former emperor of Annam, to form a puppet government. They hope by this means to undercut Ho's influence. However, Bao Dai, now in Paris, has not acceded. Having noted the dispatch with which Vietnamese assassins have bumped off former puppets, Bao Dai will refuse, many observers believe.

Youthful Bao Dai is French hope for puppet government in Indo-China, but Bao Dai will probably turn his back on the offer.

Two Beardstown
Youths Charged With Robbery

Virginia—Two young boys were apprehended and held for questioning in connection with the robbery of Glenn's filling station at Beardstown early Saturday morning.

One of the boys, Alfred (Sam) Davis, charged with committing the robbery, is in the Cass county jail in Virginia, while the other, Earl (Joe) Culver, Davis' alleged accomplice, was released on $4,000 bond.

Gene Hermetet, attendant, who was on duty at the time of the robbery, stated that one of the boys stopped at the station for a coke about 5:30 a. m. Saturday. While Hermetet was waiting on a customer, the youth opened the cash register and took the cash contents, totaling $100. He then ran towards a car where his accomplice waited.

The boys were apprehended later in the morning at Beardstown. State's Attorney Milton McClure and Sheriff Nick Long were active in the investigation.

Cecelia Murphy
Dies At Hospital;
Funeral Thursday

Miss Cecelia Murphy, 614 South Prairie street, died Monday at 7 a. m. at Our Saviour's hospital following a lingering illness.

Miss Murphy was born near Jacksonville and was a member of the Church of Our Saviour.

Survivors include a nephew, Sherman Smith, and a niece, Armeta Stone.

She was preceded in death by five sisters and one brother, Mrs. Margaret Donahue, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mrs. Mary Jaeger, Hannah Murphy, Rose Murphy and John Murphy.

Miss Murphy was the daughter of Margaret and Arthur Murphy, and was a lifetime resident of Jacksonville. For a number of years she was an employee of the Prosterman and Capps clothing factories.

The remains are at the Williamson Funeral Home.

Services will be held Thursday at 8:30 a. m. at the Church of Our Saviour, with burial in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. W. J. Barnard
Dies; Husband, 9
Children Survive

Roodhouse—Mrs. William J. Barnard, 85, died at her home at 12:30 a. m. Sunday. She was born Sept. 10, 1863, in Fairfield, the daughter of William Kirk Lindsey and Louisa Jane Caudell Lindsey.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Barnard is survived by seven daughters, Mrs. Frank Blair, of Carlinville; Mrs. Gladys Gresham, of Springfield; Mrs. William Chapman and Mrs. Sylvia McCauley, both of Jerseyville; Mrs. Pansy Duncan, of Chicago; Mrs. Dolla Hinman of Palmyra, and Miss Gertrude Barnard, at home; two sons, Kirk, of Jerseyville, and Russell, of Athensville; a brother, Orin Lindsey, of Yoman, Wash.; 39 grandchildren, 42 great-grandchildren and 18 foster grandchildren.

The remains will be taken to the residence Tuesday from the Mackey funeral home. Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Athensville Baptist church where she was a member, with Rev. Lonnie Moore officiating. Burial will be made in Richwoods cemetery east of Roodhouse.

A total of 78 different designs were submitted for the Navy's 65,000 ton aircraft carrier USS United States before one was accepted.

Cure Seen Near
For Hardening
Of Arteries

Los Angeles, April 4 — (P) — Medical researchers are on the verge of finding a cure for hardening of the arteries—the nation's No. 1 cause of death—so says a physician.

Dr. Lester Morrison, who heads a research staff at General hospital here, made the assertion before more than 200 physicians and other experts who closed a two-day conference yesterday.

Dr. Morrison reported that a new treatment for arteriosclerosis had been used successfully on 100 patients. Experiments were conducted for two years on rabbits.

Arteriosclerosis sufferers were treated with choline, a substance found in the B-complex vitamins. The disease is caused when the liver deposits too much fat in the blood stream, Dr. Morrison explained.

The fat thickens the blood vessels, he said. "That means you get a hemorrhage of the heart or brain—coronary thrombosis or cerebral thrombosis—a heart attack or stroke."

"We showed that by using choline in the animal we could restore sclerotic arteries to normal," Dr. Morrison said. "That means we could make old animals young again."

Mark Twain patented in 1873 a book which did not have a single word in it yet 25,000 copies of it were sold. It was a self-pasting scrapbook.

An estimated 1,686,670 major crimes occurred in 1948, the F.B.I. reports.

Roodhouse Boy
Feted On Birthday
At School Party

Roodhouse—Mrs. Mary Dawdy entertained the pupils of the third grade, Washington school, and their teacher, Miss Mabel Hopkins, with a party at the school honoring her son David, on his ninth birthday anniversary. Recordings of stories and music were played. Prizes for winning games were awarded Richard Crabtree, Carla Osborne, Gracie Cox and Nona Fry. Refreshments were served and favors were distributed by Mrs. Dawdy, assisted by her daughter, Diana.

Miss Yuelletta Ralston and Miss Mabel Hopkins attended a dinner meeting of Chi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma society, held at the Presbyterian church in White Hall, with Mrs. Carl Kesinger as hostess. New officers elected were Miss Edith Hyatt, president; Mrs. Nina Fuller, first vice president; Mrs. Helen Marshall, second vice president; Miss Mae Nichols, recording secretary; Miss Nita Ford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Vivian Kelly, parliamentarian. Miss Ralston is the retiring president.

The Roodhouse-White Hall DeMolay club will confer the initiatory degree on a class of candidate Wednesday night in the Roodhouse Masonic hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denney are parents of a daughter, Linda Lee, born Mar. 24 at the Passavant hospital. The mother is the former Jean Hanford.

Legion meeting tonight.

Before her marriage to William Seaver on March 23 at his sister's home in Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Seaver was Miss Dorothy Miner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miner of Franklin. Mr. Seaver is the son of Mrs. Lelia Seaver, 110 Spaulding Place, and James Seaver of Chicago Heights, Ill.
White Hall.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out at the Wurts Five and Ten Cent store at White Hall about 11 o'clock Saturday night, resulting in extensive damage to the two-story building.
The store is the property of LeRoy Wurtsbaugh, 351 Sandusky street, Jacksonville.
The basement and first floor of the store were completely ruined, while the second floor, which is used as the Masonic hall, was considerably damaged by smoke. The loss in merchandise was also heavy, as fire swept through the counter displays on the first floor and practically wiped out the stock supplies in the basement.
The Cox hardware store, the adjoining building, was slightly damaged by smoke.
The blaze was fought by White Hall's volunteer fire department. More than four hours were required to bring the smoldering fire under control. The cause of the blaze has not yet been determined and no estimate of the damage has been made.
The fire was discovered by Otto Fox, night merchants' policeman.

8 Book Bindery Windows Broken; Vandals Sought
Eight windows on the east side of the New Method Book Bindery building at West Morgan and Kosciuszko streets were smashed by vandals Saturday night or early Sunday morning.
All of the windows which were broken were covered by reinforced wire, which was forced in against the glass.
The damage was noticed Sunday morning by residents of the neighborhood, who notified James Dvorak, assistant superintendent of the plant. Patrolmen Wilson and Woods viewed the damage and began an investigation.
The windows had the appearance of having been kicked from the sidewalk, crushing the wire netting and shattering the glass. A large piece of wood may have been used, however, as the windows were badly battered.

'Incurably Backward? Nonsense'

At Her Mississippi Clinic, Dr. Bernardine Schmidt Works to Prove No Child Is Hopelessly Feeble-Minded

By Margaretta Clark
NEA Special Correspondent
University, Miss.—(NEA)—Dr. Bernardine Schmidt insists that there is no such thing as an incurable "feeble-minded" child. She is proceeding to prove her point at her clinic for backward children at the University of Mississippi, perhaps the only one of its kind in the world.

To the clinic each week come 12 children, some so "hopeless" that they cannot walk or talk. Because of the limited number of appointments she and her assistants can handle and because the demand for admittance from all over the world is so great, Dr. Schmidt's clinic has a three-month backlog.

The 12 youngsters are given many tests, in a friendly way that relaxes them. They are tested for sight and hearing, since such mechanical difficulties are frequently confused with low mentality. They are tested for their ability to get along with other children. They are tested for muscular coordination, for aptitude, for intelligence.

From the data collected, Dr. Schmidt maps out a program of training at home and at school for parents and teachers.

Before coming to Mississippi, Dr. Schmidt taught special classes of problem children in Chicago. It was during that stretch that she concluded that every child—even those born with the condition known as Mongoloid—has a chance to lead a normal life.

One of her star pupils there was Mongoloid, with the typical Oriental appearance and broad head.

"He was 12 years old when his mother brought him to me," she says. "He had so little coordination that he could hardly stand and could say only two words: 'cup' and 'saucer.' I remember how proud his mother was because it had taken her only five years to teach him to say 'saucer.' He was seven before he could say 'cup.'"

The last time Dr. Schmidt saw

CAN HE HEAR? Dr. Schmidt tests the hearing of Billy, to see if perhaps a mechanical difficulty life deafness is responsible for his mental slowness.

him, he was in his early twenties. At that time he was a traveling stock clerk for a Chicago firm and was supporting his family with his earnings. He drove a truck in making deliveries and kept account books. He had also become normal in appearance.

Of the 254 children she taught in Chicago, 91.3 per cent advanced out of the feeble-minded class, and almost 60 per cent became "normal" in intelligence. Over one-quarter finished high school, and well over three-quarters had jobs.

Dr. Schmidt, a slight, 32-year-old woman who graduated from Chicago Teachers College when she was 15 and opened a school for backward children because she was too young to get a regular teaching job, is particularly incensed at some psychologists who give up.

She points out that they will announce, after giving a child a test, that his I. Q. is so low that he is "hopelessly feeble-minded."

An I. Q. rating can change, she says, like a temperature reading. Just because a person had a fever of 102 is no proof that he'll have that temperature forever, and an I. Q. of 30 can also change with proper care.

"We haven't had any cases that were hopeless," she says. "We never say any case is hopeless. We just start in with the person and work."

Even children with physical abnormalities that ordinarily brand them as feeble-minded for life are not without hope.

"We have just assumed on the basis of physical appearance that these types were congenital morons and made no attempt to teach them anything," Dr. Schmidt says.

Those with damaged brains can be corrected, with another portion of the brain taught to take over the duties of the damaged section.

In the Special Education Clinic here no attempt is made to teach or train the children and grownups brought to it.

The work is confined to diagnosis—tests for hearing and sight, muscular coordination, aptitudes, social adjustment, and intelligence tests. Then Dr. Schmidt and her assistants map out a program of training at home and at school, for parents, relatives, and teachers.

Today more than 50 schools in the United States have on their staffs teachers trained by Dr. Schmidt in the education of feeble-minded and "problem" children.

She is concentrating her energy on training teachers as rapidly as possible. She emphasizes that they must have a sound foundation in elementary education. To build that foundation, Dr. Schmidt and her three assistants run the clinic as extra work, without pay.

CAN HE REASON? Bobby did fairly well on this test. He correctly points to the little boy's hair, after Mrs. Charlotte Salter asked where it was.

BOMBAY TRIES TO LIMIT LIQUOR
Bombay, India.—(P)—The Bombay Provincial government, which is working toward total prohibition, is introducing four "dry days" a week. No liquor may be sold on a dry day.

The government also plans a further cut in the quantity of liquor one may have in his possession. There will be a 75 per cent cut in tapping of palm trees for tarry from which country liquor is made. Hours for the sale of liquor will be fixed.

Teakwood, prized hardwood for shipbuilding, will not float in water just after it is felled, but must be hewn to the heartwood, dated and left standing to dry for about three years.

New York Stock Market

New York, April 4.—(AP)—Oils held the spotlight on the higher side today in an otherwise mixed market.

Trading was fairly active at the rate of around 1,000,000 shares for the entire day.

Oils were up fractions to as much as 4 points. The upward climb started early in the day. Around the midway point prices faltered a bit before starting forward again toward the close.

Industry reports indicated generally higher prices for gasoline on the movement started by Socony-Vacuum, which raised the price 2 cent a gallon.

Elsewhere stocks were fractions lower to as much as a point higher. A number of individual issues made comparatively wide gains because of corporate developments.

Higher were Pure Oil, Standard Oil (N.J.), Mission Corp., Plymouth Oil, Superior Oil of California, Nickel Plate, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse, Pullman, Montgomery Ward and Caterpillar Tractor.

On the downside were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester and Allied Chemical. Railroad loans were a little lower in the bond market with the trading slow throughout. U. S. government securities were unchanged in the over the counter market.

Rookie Johnny Groth Shows Signs Of Living Up To Expectations

Lakeland, Fla., April 4.—(P)—Aspiring that the Tigers were divided as to whether he should be kept on the club or sent out for one more year's seasoning. Eventually Manager Steve O'Neill decided that a year at Buffalo would be best for Groth, although he admitted Johnny was probably his best outfielder.

Toward the end of the 1948 campaign, Johnny rejoined the Tigers after leading the International league batters in six departments. His first time at bat he put the ball over the park. In 17 games, he compiled a .470 batting average. Centerfielder Hoot Evers watched Groth play that position for a few pangs and chuckled.

"From now on I'm a left fielder. I'll never get my old job back again," How right he was. Groth is now the regular centerfielder, and Evers is in left.

Red Rolfe, who succeeded O'Neill as manager, is of the same opinion as his predecessor about Groth. "He is my best outfielder," he said unhesitatingly. "The kid is great right now. There is no telling how far he will go. Another Cobb? ... there was only one like him. Another DiMaggio? ... could be."

So it is no cinch to put the finger on any rookie and say: "He's going to be a great star," no matter how good the guy looked down below. But there is one young man, an outfielder, who shows definite signs of making the American league a permanent base of operations.

He is Johnny Groth, a Chicago boy, who has had only two years of professional experience. In fact he did not start to play baseball until he found himself at Great Lakes, a naval training school during the war.

Groth is a natural, the kind that comes up once every 10 or 20 years. It has been said of him that he was a major leaguer the first time he stepped into the batter's box and rapped one over the wall at Great Lakes. Bobby Feller was so impressed by the all-around ability of this 19-year-old boy that he tried to sign him up for the Cleveland Indians.

Asks Lowest Wage For College Prof's Be Set At $3,600

Chicago, April 4.—(P)—An educator today recommended that college professors' salaries range between $3,600 and $7,200 as "absolute minimums."

He is L. D. Haskew, dean of the College of Education of the University of Texas, Austin. He addressed the conference on higher education sponsored by the National Education association.

Under Dr. Haskew's recommendation, beginners with a master's degree would start at $3,600 plus $400 for every year of preparation toward the higher degree.

The scale would jump to $4,400 at the beginning of the fourth year, to $5,400 after seven years, to $6,400 at 15 years, and to $7,200 at 25 years.

Dr. Haskew said the college professor "has the right to expect that he shall derive from our economic system support at least partially commensurate with what he puts in."

Sam Chapman Big Question Mark In Connie Mack's Plans

By JACK HAND
AP Newswire
West Palm Beach, Fla.—Sam Chapman is the big question mark in Connie Mack's plans for the dark horse Philadelphia Athletics in the American League race.

"I have been just a little disappointed in Sam," says the 86-year-old veteran who is in his 49th year as A's manager. "He doesn't seem to be able to hit the ball the same as he did before the war."

Chapman, vet center fielder, hit .322 in 1941 before he entered the Navy. Since the war he books show .200 for only 9 games in 1945, .261 in 1946, .252 in 1947 and .258 in 1948.

Hitting Is Uncertain
"Sam is my center fielder," says Mack. "I'm counting on him to get back in his old stride. This year I'll be able to rest him when he needs it. I have Wally Moses and Taft Wright to help as outfield replacements."

Chapman in center, Elmer Valo in right and Barney McCosky in left is the regular outfield. Moses, Wright and Don White, a handyman who also plays the infield, will form the second line.

Mack is confident that his team is pennant quality on defense and on pitching but he is not so sure about hitting. The A's attack lacks power,

College Cagers End Season; Many New Records Set

New York, April 4.—(P)—The hectic 1948-49 college basketball season was a matter of record today. In fact, quite a few records.

Every team that played a full schedule at least once.

Six of the 10 major conferences crowned new champions. So did two of the three big-season tournaments.

An all-time individual four-year scoring record was set as well as a single game individual mark. Tournament scoring records were tossed into the discard by the bushel.

Wildcats Acclaimed No. 1
The University of Kentucky was acclaimed generally as the nation's top team. The Wildcats repeated as NCAA champions. Kentucky lost two of 34 games—to St. Louis, 42-40, in the Sugar Bowl, and to Loyola of Chicago, 67-56, in the quarter-final round of the National Invitation tournament.

Rhode Island State won the unofficial offensive championship among major schools with an average of 71.6 points in 22 games. Oklahoma A. & M., the NCAA runner-up, won the defensive title, limiting its opponent to an average of 35.2 points in 28 games. Kentucky won its games by a greater margin than any other team—25.5 points.

Jim Lacy of Loyola of Baltimore ended his college career with 2,199 points in 123 games over a four year span. This bettered the 2,161 record for Brooks Abramovic of Salem (W. Va.) College who finished in 1943.

Frisco Wins NIT
The University of San Francisco, a comparative newcomer to big time basketball, won the upset-riddled National Invitation Tournament in New York. Hamline, captured the NA tournament at Kansas City.

The new conference champions were Yale in the Ivy League; Illinois in the Big Nine; Nebraska and Oklahoma, a tie, in the Big Seven; Wyoming in the Big Six; Oregon State in the Pacific Coast, and Arkansas, Rice and Baylor, a three-way tie in the Southwest. North Carolina State repeated in the Southern Conference as did Kentucky in the Southeastern, Arizona in the Border and Oklahoma A. and M. in the Missouri Valley.

Beheaded Rooster Refuses To Lie Down And Be Dead
Los Angeles, April 4.—(P)—Butch, a tough young rooster that beat a frying pan by walking around and crowing after his head was cut off, may wind up by living longer than some of his poultry store playmates whose heads are still intact.

Mrs. Martha Green who selected the rooster Saturday and had it head cut off is regretting her selection. She intended it for Sunday dinner but when she tried to pick off the feathers the rooster suddenly stood up and made a weird noise.

She is feeding it milk with an eyedropper through a hole in the neck.

"There is no reason why the chicken shouldn't live for several weeks or months," says Frederick Sheldon, professor of Zoology at the University of Southern California.

"There is nothing rare about this chicken's condition. Part of the brain that controls the digestive processes, respiratory and circulatory functions."

State Will Not Pay Struck Miners
Chicago, April 4.—(P)—The State of Illinois today rejected jobless pay claims by 6,000 United Mine Workers who quit work from March 14 to 27 on orders from John L. Lewis.

The state division of unemployment compensation vetoed the claims because of the miners' "unwillingness to work" and their "failure to report for available work."

Lewis ordered the two week holiday as a memorial to mine accident victims. Nearly all the 25,000 union members at 175 Illinois mines were idle during the period.

Dodgers Blast Dallas 8 To 3
Dallas, Tex., April 4.—(P)—Three-run homers by Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella sparked the Brooklyn Dodgers to an 8-3 victory over the Dallas Eagles today in a steady rain.

It was a 1-1 battle of left-handers, between the Dodgers' Morris Martin and the veteran Hooks Iott, until the Dodgers came up with four runs in the seventh, knocking out Iott. Hodges hit his homer in this frame against Tom Fonger.

Campanella's round-tripper came in the ninth.

This was Brooklyn's eighth straight win without a loss against minor league opposition.

Sarasota, Fla., April 4.—(P)—Fitcher Al Papai walked in two runs with the bases loaded and two out in the tenth to give the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals today as they wound up their Grapefruit league play.

The win gave the Sox a 10-9 Citrus loop record. It was the Cardinals' sixth straight loss.

INDIA SEEKS MORE COTTON
Karachi, Pakistan.—(P)—Agriculture Minister Abubakar Pirzada says it is the aim of the government to double the production of cotton.

Pirzada, addressing the first meeting of Pakistan central cotton committee, said all provincial governments and those connected with cotton production should endeavor to export as much cotton as possible.

Freddy Fitzsimmons Comes Back To Help Durocher And Giants

By Whitney Martin
New York, April 4.—(P)—Freddy Fitzsimmons, in the penalty box since the start of spring training, has emerged to give Leo Durocher a lift with his New York Giants, and another phase of the varied career of the big guy starts.

Star pitcher of the Giants ... traded to their arch rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers ... a hero in fatbush in the rocking-chair stage of his career ... abruptly hired as manager of the Phils ... abruptly fired from that job ... business manager of a football team ...

Freddie really has been around. He never saw him until the late stages of his playing career, but he left a vivid impression. Out there on the mound he always reminded of a fellow trying to get the sidewalk shoveled before it snowed again. Just in a hurry all the time.

Physically he didn't look much like a ball player. He's built on the general lines of a cinder vat. His arms appear abnormally short, and his pitching arm seemed to have a perpetual crook.

He moves with quick, mincing steps, and even when not throwing or catching the ball he always gave the impression of impatient action. He'd huff and puff and paw the ground with his foot until you expected smoke and fire to emerge from his nostrils.

He always was a tremendous competitor. In fact, in Durocher's ill-advised book, "The Dodgers and Me," he used Freddie as an example of fighting spirit. He also, unfortunately, used Johnny Mize as the victim of Fitzsimmons' will to win, picturing Mize as something of an cat up at the plate, putty in the hands of the fiery pitcher. Leo didn't know at the time he some day would have Mize on his squad.

Anyway, whether he did it with his arm or with spirit, Fitz piled up the impressive record of 16 victories against two defeats for the Dodgers in 1940, at the age of 30.

He stuck around with the club until midseason in 1943, when he was released to succeed Veech Harris as manager of the Phils at that time was like stepping into an elevator which isn't there. The stepper always is due for quite a shock.

The Phils finished seventh that year, and eight the next, and when it still was in eight place on June 30 the following year Fitzsimmons joined the not-too-exclusive fraternity of ex-Phil pilots.

He took a flyer as business manager of the Brooklyn Dodger football team, another club whose immediate future was a blank, and then joined Southworth at Boston landing with a winner this time.

Whether or not he gave the Braves a fair shake in applying for a job with the Giants is problematical. Chandler, obviously, didn't think so. At any rate he's back with the Giants, and with Durocher. He should be happy.

Mandalay Taken By Burmese Army
Rangoon, Burma, April 4.—(P)—Burmese army units have reaptured Mandalay and advanced northward against Karen rebels holed up in nearby Maymyo, the government announced today.

Mandalay, Burma's second largest city with a population of 200,000, was taken intact. The picturesque Temple City, 350 miles north of Rangoon, is sacred to some sects.

Government forces seized the city Sunday and now are engaged in mopping up operations on its outskirts, the announcement said.

Burma has been torn by uprising since the Nations gained its independence from Britain 16 months ago. The rebel Karen forces are seeking to set up their separate state of Karenistan. They have been aided in some localities by communists.

Ohio bonus claims have been filed by 208,500 Navy and former Naval Personnel.

Baseball More Than A Game, It's Almost A Religion
Editor's note: The following is the first of a series of six stories explaining the present legal attacks on baseball and its reserve clause.

BY TED SMITH
New York, April 4.—(P)—Baseball is more than a game. It is even more than a national institution. It is a ritual, almost a religion.

Not since the Black Sox scandal in 1919-20 has anything serious happened to disturb the serene and sacred flow of this intensely American sport.

But now there is confusion. The players are going through their parts, but they whisper to each other, "What does the Gardella case mean? Is there more money in it for me?"

And the club owners say privately, "What if the courts upset the reserve clause? How can we stay in business?"

And the fans say, "What's it all about?"

The purpose of this series of stories is to answer that last question.

The tumult started Feb. 9. From the federal courthouse in downtown New York came a decision. It said in effect that two justices of the United States courts of appeals for the second district ruled that Danny Gardella could go ahead with his suit for $360,000 damages against organized baseball.

Gardella was a wartime outfielder for the New York Giants. He wasn't so much as a ball player. And when in the spring of 1946 he appeared at the training table in a ritzy Florida hotel in decidedly informal attire, he was told to put on a clean shirt, a tie, and a coat. The next thing anyone knew Danny was in the big league playing in the Pasadena brothers' league, which was considered outlaw from the U. S. viewpoint. No one in the Giant organization gave a hoot.

Along with some really big shots such as Max Lanier and Mickey Owen, who "jumped" to Mexico, Gardella was banned from organized baseball for five years by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

After the decision of the court of appeals that surprised so many people, Lanier and Fred Martin sued organized baseball for $2,500,000 charging that they, too, had been deprived of a means of livelihood. But Gardella and his lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, started it all. A player who never achieved big league stardom is threatening to become a courtroom immortal.

Baseball is frightened because Gardella's damage suit is aimed at the legality of the reserve clause, which baseball owners say is the rock foundation of the game. Under the rules this clause is in all baseball contracts.

The reserve clause is a promise to which every professional baseball player agrees when he signs any contract. It binds him to sign up again the following year. This goes on indefinitely. It permits him to be sold or traded without his permission (or without his receiving any part of the purchase price).

Training Camp Briefs

Orlando, Fla., April 4.—(P)—Pitchers Mason Leeper and Bill Dozier were optioned by the Washington Senators to the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association today.

Leeper, a left-hander, lost five while winning one for Atlanta last season. He walked 73 batters in 55 innings.

Dozier won eight and lost eight for Charlotte last season.

Sacramento, Calif., April 4.—(P)—Catcher Vince Castino has been sold to Beaumont of the Texas league. The Sacramento Solons announced today.

Castino had been with the Chicago White Sox.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 4.—(P)—Three young left-handers who were given a trial at the St. Louis Cardinals' training camp were returned today to their minor league clubs.

None of them was listed on the Cardinal roster.

Floyd Staff and Jackie Collum were returned to Omaha of the Western league, and Florian Cassutt was returned to Lynchburg of the Piedmont league.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 4.—(P)—The Philadelphia Athletics think their Eddie Joost is the best fielding shortstop in the American league.

And that includes Cleveland's Lou Boudreau.

Praise for Joost comes from every A's player. They all say he's the fielder—makes every play look easy—though he doesn't compare with Boudreau as a hitter.

San Antonio, Tex., April 4.—(P)—The St. Louis Browns today optioned Bill Sommers, Charley Grant, Bill Leonard and Frank Biscan to the San Antonio Missions of the Texas league. Sommers played with San Antonio last year. He hit .326. Grant, a third baseman, also was with the Missions, hitting .297. Leonard, a catcher with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league last year, was signed as a free agent. Biscan, a left-handed pitcher, was with San Antonio in 1947.

Bradenton, Fla., April 4.—(P)—The Boston Braves broke camp today and started the trek north which will land them back at Boston April 13.

Although sporting a poor grapefruit league record of seven wins against 13 defeats, Manager Billy Southworth said he is satisfied he has had a good chance to observe what he will have to work with this year.

By John Campbell
Cage fans in Southern Illinois will jam the Pinckneyville high gym on the night of Saturday, January 14, 1950 to watch the defending State champs, Mt. Vernon battle the 1948 champs, Coach Merrill "Duster" Thomas' Panthers.

Northwestern high has carded several fine teams for next season in basketball including games with Arenzville, White Hall, Mt. Olive and Carrollton. They will also play in the 28th Annual Winchester Invitational tourney in January.

Coach Ray Eliot of the University of Illinois will be the speaker at the Glenn Smith Day banquet at Pittsfield April 23. This will be one of the biggest celebrations in the history of the Pike county seat town honoring the football team and the basketball team for their fine work in 1948-49, a great tribute to a fine bunch of athletes from Pittsfield high.

Coach Clarence Bradley's Carrollton Hawks are competing with Western Military Academy and Roxana in a triangular meet at Alton April 9 for the initial track meet for the Greene county team.

Carrollton is the defending champs in the Greene County, Illinois Valley and Maroon-Jay-Hawk meets this year.

N. Y. Giants Beat Cleveland 15-10
El Paso, Tex., April 4.—(P)—The New York Giants won a free-swinging exhibition contest from the Cleveland Indians today, 15 to 10, before 5,000 fans.

Walker Cooper belted his first home run of the year for the Giants in the second inning with no one on base.

In the Indians' half of the second Clint Hartung yielded five runs on six hits. The Giants bounced back in the third with four tallies. Three of them on Bobby Thomson's drive over the fence.

In the fifth, Hartung added another Giant homer, good for three runs.

Kraushaar Announces Baseball Chart For High School Nine

With five freshmen and four sophomores decorating his Crimmon baseball squad, Bob Kraushaar isn't too worried about diamond hopes for Jacksonville high school in the next couple of years.

Turning to the present season, the local high school's diamond crew is looking pretty sharp in practice sessions, and in the single warm-up game they've entered to date, they whipped Spike Wilson's lads 12 to 2 on the westfield field. Underclass hurlers Chapman, Wright and Gano, limited Tiger baseballers to a trio of hits in taking this bout Monday afternoon.

2-Deep In Every Position
Running down the list of Crimmon baseball hopefuls on this year's roster the Kraushaars appear to be two-deep in every position. Chapman, a sophomore, Wright, a freshman, and Gano, another soph., seem capable of handling pitching chores for the locals. On the other end of the battery two more youngsters, Sommer, a first-year-man, and Rhodes, a sophomore, are battling it out for the number-one catching assignment.

Going around the infield and stopping at first base, there's Bunch, a senior and the only returning letterman from last year's crop. Sabatini, who clubbed out a four-bagger in Monday's practice tilt with T.S.D., has the keystone sack under control, but freshman Sommer may latch on to this middle-of-the-diamond fort if he's unsuccessful in his quest for the catcher's job.

Bill Williams At Short
Bill Williams, freshman basketball star, is keeping in shape year around by chasing short flies and grounders from the shortstop spot in the infield. He hit safely in three times at bat Monday p.m. Johnny Walker, a chunky frosh and Rhodes, the other catcher, each worked a stunt at the hot corner, and Walker third base in Wednesday's contest probably will be given the nod at with Beardstown on the J.H.S. field.

Patrolling the pastures, Kraushaar has a pair of vets, Jording, senior and Gibson, a junior, tussling for the right-field niche on the Crimmon nine. Two more oldtimers, Fanning and Trotter, will chase the long hits on the left side of the outfield, while Whitacre, a senior, and Samore, soph., are running for the center-field assignment.

Scanning the Crimmon schedule for this spring's baseball ventures we see that the Kraushaars crew swings into action this Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., against Beardstown on the local turf, and then meets Paul Stroud's Routt Rockets Saturday afternoon, April 9.

Try To Find Only Relative Of Man Who Left $40,000
Chicago, April 4.—(P)—Chicago police today attempted to find the sole surviving relative of a man who died in Johannesburg, South Africa, leaving a $40,000 estate.

The missing persons bureau received a letter from Joseph Nathan who said he was the executor of the estate of Simon Shillinsky, who died in Johannesburg without a will.

Nathan's letter said a picture of John Grigalunas, a nephew, was found among Shillinsky's papers.

Police located a John Grigalunas, 28, who said he knew of no relative in South Africa but would ask his father.

Duke Of Windsor Visits Ailing King
London, April 4.—(P)—The Duke of Windsor visited his ailing brother King George tonight at Buckingham palace.

Windsor drove down from Malborough House, home of his 81-year-old mother, the dowager Queen Mary, and entered the palace gates virtually unnoticed by passersby.

He was immediately shown into the king's apartment. Palace sources said he "remained some time."

The 54-year old former king arrived in England several hours earlier after crossing the channel in a gale. It was his first trip home since King George fell ill last November with a circulation ailment in his legs.

Farmer Finds Sow Alive In Big Drift
Dupree, S. D., April 4.—(P)—The big blizzard of 1949 is still giving up its victims.

Farmer John Lemke of near Dupree dug into a large snow drift deposited Jan. 2 and freed what had been a 300 pound sow. The porker still had strength enough to walk three-quarters of a mile to a feed trough, Lemke said today.

Shortly after the blizzard Lemke dug out 38 live hogs and two deer ones from the same drift. Now he has hope of finding one sow still missing.

'Pen Pal' Letters Enjoyed By Local, Hawaiian Students

Ties of new friendships are being made between two groups of American citizens of tomorrow—one group living in Kailua, Oahu, territory of Hawaii; the other in Jacksonville, Fla. A fifth grade class of children from Kailua school, on the island of Oahu, has set out upon a venture of correspondence with the fifth grade pupils at Lafayette school.

The Hawaiian class includes 32 students, representing the Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, Korean, Portuguese, Spanish and Caucasian races. Some of these pupils have previously lived in the states, but the majority of them were born in the islands.

An exchange of ideas on geographical factors, sports, favorite movies and radio actors, actresses and programs, Boy Scouting, Girl Scouting, 4-H clubs and family interests is proving to be very educational and fascinating to the students of both classes.

Miss Mary R. Mollenbrot is the teacher of the Lafayette school "Pen Pal" group. Miss Thyra Smith, a '36 graduate of MacMurray College and an alumna of Lafayette grade school, is the teacher of the "Aloha-Land" correspondents. Miss Smith, daughter of Mrs. Grace F. Smith, 719 Jordan street, has been teaching in the islands for four years.

Minnie Robinson Of Berea Area Dies Monday

Mrs. Minnie Robinson, wife of Edgar E. Robinson of the Berea community, died at 10:35 a.m. at Our Saviour's hospital, where she had been a patient for eight days.

She was born near Alexander on Jan. 27, 1891, a daughter of George W. and Emma Robinson Foster.

On Aug. 30, 1911 she was united in marriage to John T. Swain. They were the parents of three children: John and Kenneth Swain and Mrs. Emma Grady, Alexander.

Mr. Swain died in March, 1919. She married Edgar E. Robinson on Feb. 26, 1925. He survives, with one son, Edgar E. Robinson, Jr. Another son, Clyde Eugene, died in infancy.

She also leaves two brothers and two sisters: Frank and Harry Foster of Alexander, Mrs. Emma Lizzie Robinson of Ashland. Five grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Robinson was a member of the Antioch Christian church.

The body was prepared for burial at the Gillham Funeral Home, but will be returned to the family residence Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held there at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, with the Rev. R. E. May officiating.

Burial will be in Berea cemetery.

MISS NELLE DOYING INJURED IN FALL

Miss Nelle Doying, 135 Westminster street, suffered fractures of the left hip and wrist in a fall at her home about noon Monday.

She was taken to Passavant hospital and admitted as a patient. The attending physician is Dr. Ellsworth Black.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hoffman of Chicago are the parents of a daughter, Pamela Kay, born March 28. Mrs. Hoffman is the former Kay Little of Jacksonville.

INSURANCE BROKER

E. P. HOHMANN

E. P. Hohmann, a recent graduate of the University of Illinois has established his own insurance agency in Jacksonville. Mr. Hohmann majored in Economics at the University of Illinois, which included insurance courses. He was also assistant to Professor R. E. Mehr, head of the insurance department at the university.

Mr. Hohmann was graduated from Jacksonville High school in 1940. He entered the army in 1940 as a private, and was discharged as a major in 1946.

Mr. Hohmann will handle all lines of insurance, viz. life, fire, automobile, liability, crop, hail, marine, etc. He will be in his office every Saturday from 8-5, and on Sunday morning from 9 to 12. His phone number is 16. Appointments will be accepted every evening except Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Hohmann is also a Notary Public.

To Be Wed

MISS MARGIE MINER

April 14 has been set as the wedding date for Miss Margie Miner and George Wilson, both of Franklin.

Miami Rites Unite Imogene Garner, Massachusetts Man

Miss Imogene Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Garner of Miami, Fla., became the bride of Edward C. Jarvis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Jarvis of Fitchburg, Mass., in a single-ring ceremony conducted Friday evening, March 25, at the Seventh Avenue Christian church in Miami.

The bride is a 1944 graduate of the Charles S. French community high school at Chapin and Brown's business college of Jacksonville. She was associated with the Jacksonville Journal Courier company and the Jacksonville Supply company while in this community. At present she is employed as stenographer at the Nordell's Ladies Ready-to-Wear of Miami.

The Rev. G. M. Watson, former minister of Purdue university, Indiana, performed the ceremony. Attendees were Mrs. Wendell McNeil, sister of the bride, and Robert Jarvis, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Jarvis chose a white tropical suit with pale green accessories for her wedding costume. She wore a corsage of talisman roses and pink gladioli.

A reception followed at the McNeil home.

Mr. Jarvis, a graduate of the Fitchburg high school, is an engraver and has been employed by the Maxwell company for the past two years. After April 6 the couple will be at home at 84 N.W. 30 street, Miami.

Southern Pastor To Give Lecture In Winchester

Winchester—The Rev. Dr. Sam Morris, Southern Baptist minister and lecturer of San Antonio, Texas, will speak in the auditorium of the Winchester Community high school at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 6.

Dr. Morris is coming as the guest speaker of the Grace Baptist church. Many have heard Dr. Morris on his nation-wide radio broadcasts. The public is invited to hear Dr. Morris as he discusses the question of liquor and its influence upon America's life.

Mrs. Gertrude O'Donnell, Mrs. Helen O'Donnell, Mrs. Frances Cody and Mrs. Sophia McCabe attended a C.D.A. meeting in Jacksonville Sunday.

Mrs. Donald Morris of Michigan is visiting her mother, Mrs. Grace Brown, of Winchester. Mrs. Morris attended a class reunion at Passavant hospital over the weekend.

George Hieronymus was a weekend visitor in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Peak were in Paris, Ill., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowick were visitors in Decatur Sunday.

Mrs. Ellen Patterson entertained members of her bridge club at 1:15 p.m. Monday.

Miss Henriette Hainsfurther arrived home Sunday from a visit in Biloxi, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Peak entertained several couples at their home Sunday evening.

To Meet Thursday

The April meeting of the Methodist church W.S.C.S. will be held Thursday in the social rooms of the church. A potluck dinner will be served.

The American Legion auxiliary will convene in the Legion rooms Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Covey and daughters, Mary Ellen and Janet, of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hamilton were the Saturday evening supper guests of Mrs. Covey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Robinson spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dilly in Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brogdon and children of Jacksonville had Sunday dinner with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brogdon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Million entertained the following dinner guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. James Millard of Rockford, Mr. and Mrs. Walter White of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tendick and family and Mr. and Mrs. David Million.

Mrs. James White, a recent surgical patient at Passavant hospital, has returned to her home.

During the business transactions the president announced that the annual election of officers will be held during the May meeting. Frank Corrington was elected director of the state automobile dealers association. He replaced Hayden Walker in this capacity and will hold the office for a two-year period.

The group discussed the question of a possible increase in gasoline tax and auto fees in the state of Illinois, but arrived at no formal conclusion on the two issues.

The current issue of the Police Magazine, published quarterly in Chicago, features the Jacksonville police department.

The main story was written by Walter H. DeShara, Journal Courier police reporter. The account includes a history of the local department, with short biographical sketches of each man on the force.

Another section of the magazine carries a group of anecdotes dealing with the humorous side of being a policeman. This column was written by Patrolman Francis Willner.

The magazine editorially praised the excellent police work done by Sgt. Albert Spreen and Sgt. Lyle Wiant when they broke up an armed robbery attempt at Steele's tavern last May and Capt. Ike Flynn's alertness when he aroused 14 people and got them safely out of burning South Main street apartments this year.

The articles were illustrated by five pictures furnished by the Journal Courier.

Mrs. Lena A. Frye, 918 S. East street, has received word of the death of her uncle, J. W. Gibbons Monday morning in Affton, Missouri.

Mr. Gibbons was born in Jacksonville 86 years ago and was a lifetime resident of this city until several years ago when he went to Affton to make his home with his daughter. He was a retired farmer.

His wife preceded him in death 10 years ago. One daughter, Mrs. John Christman, passed away last spring.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews in this city.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at Affton. Burial will be in Sunset Beach Park, Affton, Mo.

He resided at 918 South East street, Jacksonville.

Round Two Coming Up

Barbara Jean Floyd, Miss New Orleans of 1948, freshens up her "war paint" in New Orleans, La., after declaring she would "really fix" her husband, George Cauthen, if they met again. When they met in a hotel lobby a few days before, she bit, kicked and scratched Cauthen, an airline pilot, and he spanked her. Stranded in South America, she married him, she said, just so she could get back home. Now she wants to annul the marriage.

Local Auto Dealers Hold Regular Meet At Dunlap Hotel

The Jacksonville chapter of the Illinois automobile dealers' Association met in their regular monthly meeting in the dining room of the Dunlap Hotel Monday evening.

Those members of the local chapter present included, Frank Corrington, president; George T. Lukeman, Jr., vice-president; Hayden Walker, secretary-treasurer; Dick Stratman, representing DeWitt Motor Co., Floyd Cox, Poole Motor Co., and John M. Marshall, representing the Tom Cornish Ford Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lael and Family

CARD OF THANKS I wish to thank the doctors, nurses, relatives and friends who were so kind during my recent stay in Passavant hospital. Visitors, gifts and cards were deeply appreciated.

Mr. Owen Lael

Still is the voice of devotion, And gone is the smile that was cheery, The toil, and the cares are all ended, And sweet is the rest of the weary.

But hopeful are we who are waiting, For that meeting on some other shore, Where together once more we are happy, And sadness, and parting no more.

Sadly missed by wife, and daughter: Mrs. Irl Schaffer & Sharon

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our beloved husband, and father, Irl Schaffer, who passed away one year ago today.

Still is the voice of devotion, And gone is the smile that was cheery, The toil, and the cares are all ended, And sweet is the rest of the weary.

But hopeful are we who are waiting, For that meeting on some other shore, Where together once more we are happy, And sadness, and parting no more.

Sadly missed by wife, and daughter: Mrs. Irl Schaffer & Sharon

CARD OF THANKS My thanks to Our Saviour's hospital staff, nurses, Dr. Harold Norris, Dr. Mary L. Newman, friends and relatives for kindness, flowers and cards received during my illness.

Mrs. Glenn Walbert

Harvard U. Names George H. Perbix Baker Scholar

George H. Perbix, 1947 graduate of the University of Illinois, has been selected as a George F. Baker scholar at Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration.

The designation of Baker scholar is bestowed each year on the top of students. Named after the first five per cent of the second year great benefactor of the school, it represents the highest scholastic honor given a student before his graduation.

Perbix received his S. B. degree from the University of Illinois and was selected for Phi Beta Kappa. He was also awarded the bronze tablet and was a member of Alpha Kappa Lambda. He served in the Navy for three years, attaining the rank of Lieutenant.

Perbix is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Perbix, 1430 Mound avenue, Jacksonville.

1,500 Hog Raisers To Hear U. Of I. Reports Thursday

Urbana—At least 1,500 and possibly as many as 2,000 swine raisers are expected to attend Swine Growers' Day at the Illinois College of Agriculture Thursday.

J. L. Krider, University animal scientist, says attendance for the past few years has been running from 1,500 to 1,800. If weather is poor for spring work, around 2,000 persons are expected from Illinois and near-by states.

Swine Growers' Day Thursday is the first chance we've had, Krider, says, to explain the results of our latest experiments with swine.

Alfalfa compared with alfalfa-melgrass pasture, feeding baby pigs with synthetic milk, creep-feeding, new sources of riboflavin, and breeding troubles of sows and gilts are some reports on the program.

Two out-of-state authorities will discuss a new pricing plan for hogs and the likely effects of flexible price supports on hog raisers. Visitors will tour the University experimental swine farm.

"We've tried to plan the program so that hog raisers can learn a good many practical things," says Krider. "It should be time well spent to attend Swine Growers' Day at Urbana Thursday."

Forrest B. Smith Dies; Greenfield Rites Wednesday

Greenfield—Forrest B. Smith, 51, died suddenly at 9:45 a.m. Monday at the Macopin hospital in Carlinville. Mr. Smith, who had suffered from heart trouble for several years, was taken to the hospital late Sunday night in the Shields ambulance.

Born May 26, 1897, on the old Smith homestead six miles southeast of Greenfield, he was the son of R. E. L. and Lula Virginia Andrews Smith. A graduate of the Greenfield high school in 1916, he served in both World Wars. He was for many years employed by the Humble oil company in Texas, but moved back here three years ago to operate the family farm.

He was united in marriage to Lorene Smith March 3, 1923. She survives, along with their daughter, Martha Geta Smith, a student at Blackburn college. Also surviving are two brothers, Leo of Jerseyville and K. T. Smith of Greenfield, and one sister, Mrs. C. O. Bulger of Greenfield.

The body was taken to the Shields Memorial Home and returned to the home Monday evening. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the family home, known as the Point Pleasant farm. The Rev. Robert F. Swain will officiate and burial will be in Oak Wood cemetery, Greenfield.
